May 31, 2026— The Most Holy Trinity

The first verse of today's Gospel passage is perhaps one of the most famous verses in the whole Bible: "God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him might not perish but might have eternal life." In many ways, it is a summary of the entire Christian message. Within this single verse, we find, in capsule form, the truth about God, about the world, and about ourselves. The truth about God has to do with his deepest identity, which is love (God is love" [1 John 4:8]), and which was the motivation for Jesus's incarnation ("God so loved the world..."). But for God's deepest identity to be love, his deepest identity must also be personal and relational. After all, love always involves the generous acceptance of another person, as well as the generous giving of oneself to that person. And so we discover our first glimpse of the greatest mystery of the universe, the mystery the Church celebrates today in a special way: that God is a Trinity, and that from all eternity God is one divine nature and three divine person, truly one God, but at the same time Triune in his divinity. We can never fully fathom the depths of this mystery. How can God be at the same time one and three? We cannot comprehend it fully. But we can contemplate it. And we can delight in knowing that God is not just some kind of a vague, impersonal force, as many New Age spiritualities claim; that eternity is not populated by hundreds, or thousands, or even millions of conflicting deities, as some pagan religious claim; and that God is not only all-knowing and all-powerful, not a grim and demanding taskmaster, but also all good. God is love! What idea of God dominates my mind, my attitude, my reactions to the ups and downs of life, when I pray?

This verse also reveals the truth about ourselves. We are loved; we are loveable, we are known; we are pursued; we are chosen; we are wanted; we matter. Many experiences we have in this fallen world, this battleground world, seem to contradict that. As children, adolescents, and even adults, the people around us often don't treat us according to the dignity we possess in our very selves by having been created by God in his own image and likeness. And so, we find ourselves often belittled and abused, abandoned and ignored, objectified and neglected. These experiences cause us pain, and to deal with that pain we begin to believe lies about ourselves—that we don't need to be loved, that our desires for fulfillment and connection are unreasonable and unfulfillable. Jesus came to shatter the darkness of those lies, to release us from the spiritual and emotional chains they forge, and to heal us of the wounds beneath them. This is what it means when St. John explains the meaning of John 3:16 in the following verse, John 3:17, "For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through him." To save the world, to repair what is broken and redeem what is lost—that is why Jesus came. That is why Jesus continues to come, every day, through the working of the Holy Spirit, through the holy sacrifice of the Mass and Christ's presence in the Eucharist, through the governance of all things by the Father's providential wisdom. The Blessed Trinity is continuously unfolding a tapestry of salvation that includes the full restoration of our own broken and divided human nature. And that is why we can say, with today's responsorial psalm: "Blessed are you, O Lord, the God of our fathers, praiseworthy and exalted above all forever" (Daniel 3:52).

Prayer to the Holy Trinity

Glory be to the Father, Who by His almighty power and love created me, making me in the image and likeness of God.

Glory be to the Son, Who by His Precious Blood delivered me from hell, and opened for me the gates of heaven.

Glory be to the Holy Spirit, Who has sanctified me in the sacrament of Baptism, and continues to sanctify me by the graces I receive daily from His bounty.

Glory be to the Three adorable Persons of the Holy Trinity, now and forever. Amen.

June Monthly Devotion
The Sacred Heart of Jesus

June is dedicated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Jesus chose St. Mary Margaret Alacoque, a French nun, to awaken the Church to a realization of the love of God symbolized by the Heart of Jesus. Between 1673 & 1675, she experienced multiple revelations of Jesus in which He showed her the form of the Devotion to the Sacred Heart. Requirements for the nine First Fridays Devotion to the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus include reception of Holy Communion on the first Friday of each of nine consecutive months (preferably at Holy Mass), the Sacrament of Reconciliation, and the devotion must be made in honor of and in reparation to Our Lord's Most Sacred Heart for all sins committed against it. The Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus is celebrated on Friday, June 12th.
